

Record Store Day Hot Spots in Soho

Soho is the heart and soul of London's music culture; from record shops to music venues, Soho is the ultimate hot spot ahead of Record Store Day on Saturday 12th April this year.

For those looking to make the most of the annual celebration, Soho will fulfil vinyl lovers' needs, offering a space for music enthusiasts to embrace and enjoy an accumulation of vinyl records. From a day of exploring the best record shops in Soho to grabbing a bite at a nearby dining or bar spot.

What's happening in Soho on Record Store Day

Shop an electric mix of genres at Third Man Records, 1 Marshall St, Soho

Third Man Records' first ever store outside the USA is situated in the heart of London's historic Soho - an area renowned for its rich musical history. Experience an exclusive celebration of music at Third Man's Record Store Day event, where live performances, a guitar pedal demo, and limited-edition records take center stage. Dive into the world of vinyl culture and cutting-edge sound in an atmosphere designed for true music lovers.

Discover limited edition releases at Sister Ray, 75 Berwick St, Soho

Sister Ray will share a treasure trove of limited-edition Record Store Day releases from 8am on the 12th April, allowing vinyl lovers to snag rare pieces including Time Flies by Oasis, Fleetwood Mac and Tainted Love by Gloria Jones. Sister Ray also curates the best picks on must-have releases, from big hitters to hidden gems.

Immerse yourself with other music enthusiasts at Reckless Records, 30 Berwick St, Soho

Located in the heart of Soho, Reckless Records has been a staple in the Berwick Street area since its establishment in 1984. As the first record store on the block, Reckless has weathered the changes in the industry, continuing to attract music enthusiasts and collectors alike to its diverse offerings.

Bag yourself special releases at Phonica Records, 51 Poland St, Soho

Phonica will be opening at 9am on Record Store Day showcasing special releases whilst bringing excellent music, special guests throughout the day as well as welcoming back their basement festivities.

Discover rare gems at Sounds of the Universe, 7 Broadwick Street, Soho

Sounds of the Universe in Soho is a must-visit on Record Store Day, offering exclusive vinyl releases, and a vibrant music-loving community. With its deep ties to Soul Jazz Records, it's the perfect spot to discover rare gems and celebrate independent record culture.

Best bars and restaurants to visit in Soho inspired by music:

Experience vintage live music at Nightjar, 49-51 Kingly Court, Soho

Indulge in a unique experience of savouring world-class cocktails and rare vintage spirits, some with a history dating back to the mid-1800s, while being serenaded by vintage live music. This combination promises a night filled with sophistication and nostalgia making it an unforgettable outing for music aficionados.

Discover live swinging music and vintage DJs at Cahoots, 5 Kingly Street, Soho

Step back in time to the glamour of the 1940s at Cahoots, a unique bar in the heart of London's Soho within an abandoned train station. Immerse yourself in the vintage ambiance, complete with live swinging music and vintage DJs spinning the best of the era, creating an unforgettable experience where nostalgia meets modern-day entertainment.

For a dose of blues music visit Ain't Nothin' But the Blues Bar, 20 Kingly St, Soho

For a dose of soul-stirring blues music with great live performances, Ain't Nothing But the Blues Bar is the perfect spot whether you're a blues enthusiast or just looking to enjoy some quality live music, this venue promises a memorable experience filled with feel-good tunes and a vibrant ambiance.

Immerse yourself in the vibrant energy of Soho at the Soho Radio Record Store Day event at The Broadwick Hotel, 20 Broadwick Street

On the 12th April, celebrate independent music culture with live DJ sets, exclusive vinyl releases, and special guest performances, all in the heart of London's iconic music district. Whether you're a dedicated collector or just looking to soak up the atmosphere, this event is a must-visit for music lovers.

ENDS

About Soho

Soho is a world-famous shopping and dining destination in the heart of London's West End, synonymous with culture, creativity and innovation. Made up of one square mile of vibrant interconnecting streets including the globally renowned Carnaby Street, it's home to a multi-dimensional mix of international flagships, independent boutiques and innovative, new concept stores. The epicentre of London's dining scene, its unique day-to-night hospitality offer comprises high-quality restaurants, cafés, bars and pubs.

ThisisSoho.co.uk / @ThisisSoho